

Call Guide

Twin Home Buyer · for the team · questions to Jonathan or Seth

Every call is recorded, written out as text, and graded out of 100. Nobody has to press anything, and nobody has to remember to start it. This page tells you what happens on a call and the few things that are yours to do.

When a seller calls us

Seller dials a campaign number

From an ad, postcard or sign

Your phones ring

Everyone on that campaign rings at once

First to answer takes the call

Nothing to press, just answer

If nobody answers, the AI picks up

It talks to the seller for you

The call is recorded, written out and graded

It appears on the dashboard

Within a few minutes

The phones only ring for a few seconds before the AI takes over. That is deliberate - a seller who waits is a seller who hangs up - so if you want the call, answer quickly.

When you call a seller

- 1 Open the seller in REI BlackBook and press Make a Call
- 2 REI rings your phone first, then connects the seller
- 3 REI records the call and writes it out
- 4 It reaches the dashboard, graded, usually within 5 to 10 minutes

Calls made any other way do not exist

If you dial from your own phone, there is no recording, no transcript and no score. As far as the dashboard is concerned the call never happened, and neither did your work on it.

Taking a live call from Google Chat

When the AI answers a seller, a card appears in the THB - Seller Call Routing & Handoff space. The seller is on the line right then, talking to the AI.

If you want that call, reply ME to the card. The AI finishes the sentence it is on, tells the seller someone has just freed up, and puts them through to your phone.

- You have 2 minutes from the card appearing
- First person to reply gets it. If someone beat you, nothing happens
- Reply in the thread under the card, not in the main channel
- Only reply ME if you can take the call right now - the seller is waiting

The cards you will see

In Chat each of these carries a coloured dot. The names are what matters - they are printed here in the same colours.

Card	What it means	What to do
LIVE SELLER CALL	A seller is on the phone with the AI right now.	Reply ME within 2 minutes to take it.
NOW SPEAKING SPANISH	The seller switched to Spanish, so the AI handed them to the Spanish assistant. Still live.	If you speak Spanish, reply ME in that thread.
CALLBACK NEEDED	The call has ended and nobody took it. The seller's details are on the card.	Call them back as soon as you can.
AFTER HOURS	Someone called outside 8-5 and our answering service took it.	Nothing tonight. The message reaches you in the morning.

After 5pm, weekends and Sunday

Outside 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, and all day Sunday, a live answering service picks up instead of the AI. They take the seller's details and those reach you the next working morning. You are not expected to answer the phone at 11pm.

Your day, in four lines

- 1 Keep your phone on and near you - seller calls ring everyone at once
- 2 Make outbound calls from inside REI BlackBook, using Make a Call
- 3 Say your name in the opening. "Twin Home Buyer, this is Era." That is how the system knows the call was yours
- 4 Before you finish, open your page and read the coaching note on your worst call

No name, no credit

The system matches a call to you by hearing you introduce yourself. If nobody says a name, the call shows a dash instead of a person, and it counts for nobody.

Your page

Sign in and you see only your own calls. For each one you get a score out of 100, the single thing that would have helped most on that call, and the recording and transcript to play back.

What the score measures

Not whether you were nice. Whether you covered the things that turn a call into an appointment:

- Greeted the seller warmly
- Introduced the company and yourself by name
- Asked how they heard about us (inbound only)
- Asked why they want to sell
- Asked for the property address
- Asked about condition, timeline, and who is on title
- Asked for the appointment

Most lost points come from skipping one of these, not from saying anything wrong.

What does not get a score

A call under 45 seconds inbound, or under 2 minutes outbound, is kept and counted but not graded. It shows too short where the score would be. A 20-second hang-up is not a coaching sample, and grading it would mark you down for a call that was never yours to win.

Things people ask about

What you see	What is happening
My call is not showing	Give it 10 minutes. Outbound calls have to finish processing in REI first. If it is still missing after that, it was not made through REI.
It says too short	Under 45 seconds inbound, or 2 minutes outbound. Not a fault. The call still counts toward your total.
It has no name on it	Nobody introduced themselves on that call. Say your name in the opening and it attaches to you automatically.
I replied ME and nothing happened	Either someone replied first, or the 2 minutes had passed. Both are normal.

Who to ask

Anything not on this page - send a screenshot to Jonathan or Seth. The screenshot is usually enough to work out what happened.
